Headline:
Blustery showers today, heavy rain tomorrow.

Today:
Widespread showers throughout the day, most frequent in the west. Showers may be heavy at times, possibly with some hail and a low risk of thunder. Turning windy into the afternoon and feeling cool. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers will fade away during the evening to leave a brief dry spell before prolonged heavy rainfall arrives in the early hours. Breezy. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tuesday:
Overcast with prolonged spells of rain continuing through much of the day, possibly drier and brighter towards the south east from late afternoon. Rain clearing and winds easing overnight. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Low cloud with light rain along the coasts Wednesday, dry and bright later. From Thursday, mostly cloudy but dry with some sunny spells towards the south. Fog patches Friday morning.
